

Voice Control Application

Software application to record and analyze voice to diagnosis neurological disorders

This software application records and analyzes a person speaking potentially to diagnose neurological disorders. By identifying voice tremors, voice inconsistencies, speed of cognitive processing, voice speed, and voice coordination, the application identifies voice and motor issues, possibly pointing to neurological disorders.

Category

Mobile App

Software as a Service

Authors

Sara Dagen

Andrea Dautant

View online

